

The Blue Letter: 6th May 2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

Learning, Loving, Growing,
Together with God.

As the sunshine and warmer weather arrives, I'm sure you might start to think about sun screen for your children during the school day. We have sun cream dispensers in school which contain an SPF 50 sun cream which is perfume and silicone free, making it suitable for sensitive skin. Please don't send your children into school with bottles of cream to apply during the day as they may contain ingredients that other children are allergic to. Sun hats are available from Game, Set and Match or your child may wear a plain sun hat. As with items of clothing that are sent into school, please ensure they are labelled with your child's name.

Next week sees the return of the year 6 tests. After the disruption that has taken place to their learning and lives over the last few years, we are really impressed with the attitude they have had in preparing for them and we are confident that they will do their best and work hard next week. Year 6 parents, should have received a separate parentmail last week with information from Mrs Martin about next week.

There are three attachments which will be sent with the blue letter this week. There is a competition from Chartwells who provide our hot lunches, details about a Saturday morning netball clubs for children and adults and also a letter from the local foodbank about their holiday lunch pack scheme for families who are entitled to low income free school meals.

Pirate Workshop

Squirrel Class were really excited today (Friday) to discover they had a special visitor who led a pirate workshop.

There were various activities for them to take part in, including learning to talk like a pirate and retelling the story of Captain Redbeard.

Outdoor learning

We threw the blossom up in the sky and then it went down. We made bunting using flowers and leaves. We bashed them with the rocks on the material. - Arham and Molly
